

What knowledge, skills and attitudes are most important for mental health nurses?

Researchers at La Trobe University are seeking volunteers to be involved in a concept mapping study about the core knowledge, clinical skills, and attitudes (competencies) of mental health nurses. We are looking to recruit people that have experienced mental health problems.

Can I take part in the research?

The study might be a good fit for you if you:

- Have ever used mental health services.
- Are prepared to share your views about what important knowledge, skills and attitudes do mental health nurses need to work in a mental health setting.
- Aged 18 years or over.
- Can read and write in English.
- Have access to and can use a personal computer.

Will I be paid for participating in the study?

We will give you $50 Coles vouchers card to thank you for participating in our study.

Who do I contact if I want more information or want to take part in the study?
