"As a Crisis Support Worker at Life Line I particularly found the workshop on Hearing Voices very informative. To me it is far more powerful to have any workshop delivered by people who are strong and brave enough to share their own story. How they cope, what works for them, what/how what we say can help."

This training also includes Voice Profiling, a set of techniques which improve the understanding of the voices a person experiences.

The tools and strategies used in this training include:

- Identifying 'distinct' voices
- Linking the voices to the individual's life history
- Searching for patterns and meaning of the voices
- Seeking to understand the voice's message or intent, and
- Breaking down the experience into manageable parts

This course is ideal if you:

- Want to better understand the experience of hearing voices & recovery
- Want to start a hearing voices group
- Are interested in a new approach to working with individuals on their voices
- Want to change your own relationship with voices
- Work with voice hearers in a clinical or community setting
- Are a friend or family member of a voice hearer
