If you have lived experience of mental health challenges, either as a consumer or as a carer, and have had contact with mental health nurses, you are warmly invited to take a part in an important research project. This research project aims to gather and to use your views to inform the educational preparation of mental health nurses.

The anonymous survey will take no more than 10 minutes to complete. Please scan the QR code or click this link to begin the survey.